Monday, February 22, 2010

6:00-7:00pm Original Building, Room 244

This discussion will explore various angles of the topic and focus on food development and marketing; the role of corporate America in food production; farmers' markets; and the legal and ethical issues associated with the food industry. Conversation will also cover the most current national and international developments and trends regarding food security. Portions of "Food Inc.," a documentary on food safety, will be screened. Speakers will respond to questions from the audience. Join the dialogue and enjoy free pizza with fellow students, faculty, and alumni.
