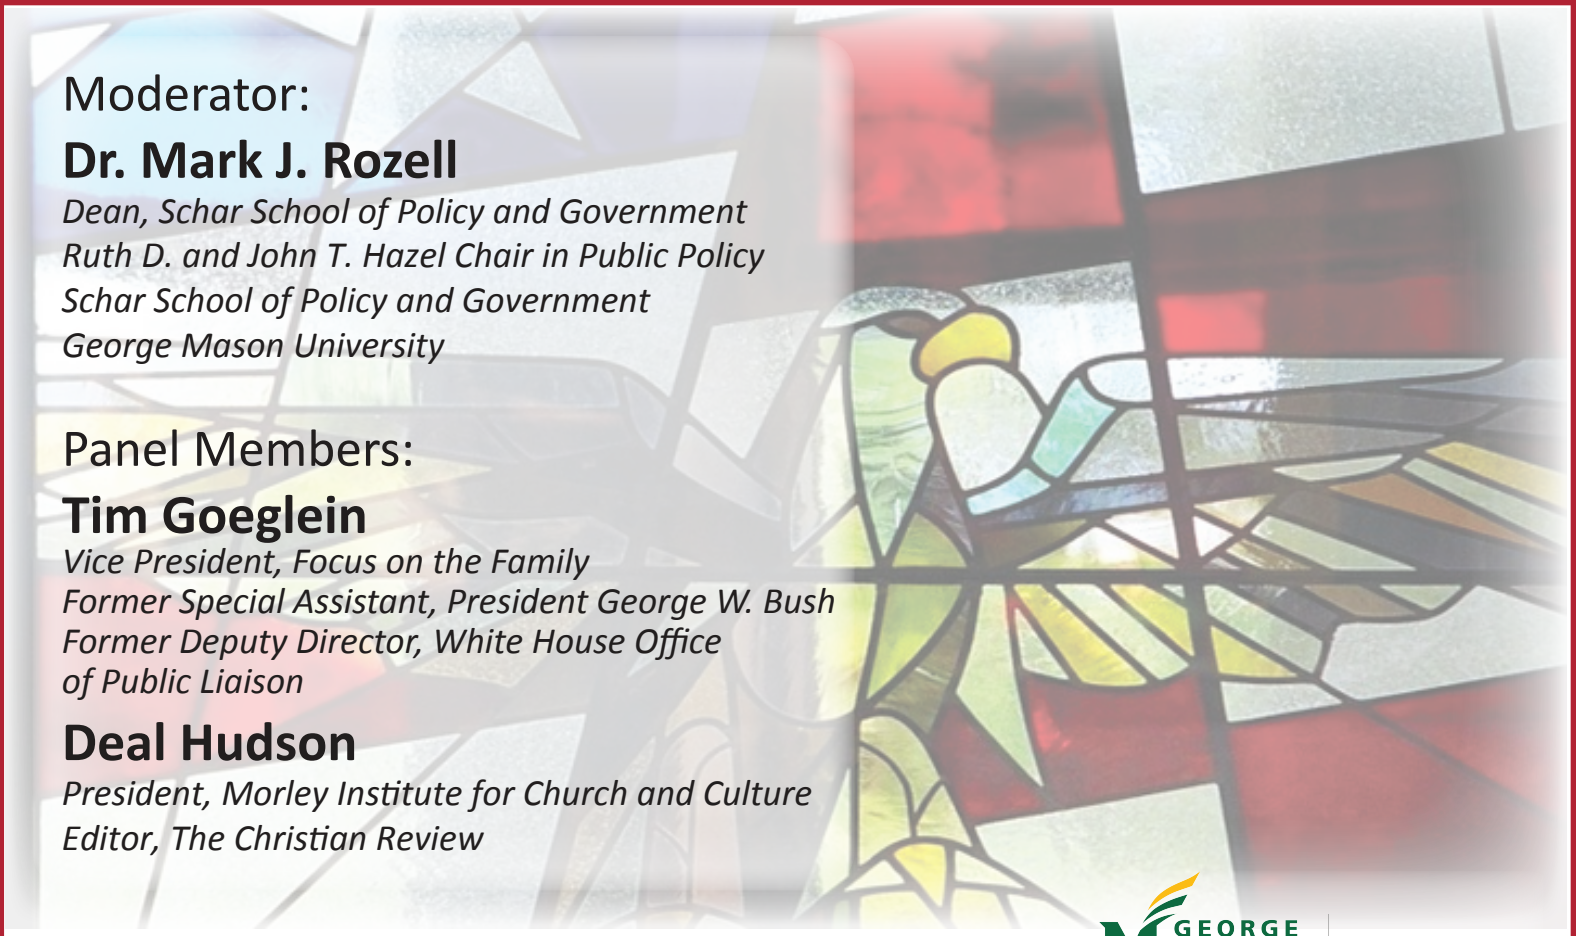
Pizza & Perspectives

Trump's First Year:
Perspectives from the Religious Right

A discussion on how conservative evangelicals and Catholics view the first year of Trump's controversial administration.

Tuesday, February 6th, 6-7:15pm

Founders Hall Multipurpose Room, Arlington, VA



Moderator:

Dr. Mark J. Rozell

Dean, Schar School of Policy and Government
Ruth D. and John T. Hazel Chair in Public Policy
Schar School of Policy and Government
George Mason University

Panel Members:

Tim Goeglein

Vice President, Focus on the Family
Former Special Assistant, President George W. Bush
Former Deputy Director, White House Office of Public Liaison

Deal Hudson

President, Morley Institute for Church and Culture
Editor, The Christian Review

Open to the Public • Mason students bring your ID

George Mason University

University Life Arlington